Texas Mutual to award $8 million in grant funding to Texas nonprofits

Funding will invest in programs supporting generational learning, workforce development and safety training

AUSTIN, Texas—Texas Mutual Insurance Company, the state's leading provider of workers' compensation insurance, will be investing $8 million in grant funding to support nonprofits throughout Texas.

This marks the fourth consecutive year Texas Mutual is investing in nonprofit organizations dedicated to supporting working families and fortifying businesses through generational learning, workforce development and safety training. Texas Mutual has invested over $60 million into communities across the state since 2016 and continues to commit its resources to ensure meaningful change for current and future Texans.

"Our community funding is a testament to the strength of our business and our commitment to strengthening communities," said Jackie Sekiguchi, Texas Mutual community affairs manager. "The grants will help ensure Texas nonprofits have the necessary resources to flourish and grow. We're proud to support stronger, safer and more resilient communities for generations to come."

Texas Mutual will award grants through two request for proposal (RFP) cycles, which will start this month. In the first grant cycle, Texas Mutual will seek to invest in initiatives that support generational impact and will be awarded to organizations that demonstrate:

- Improving the health and wellness of Texas workers and their families by providing access to quality care and health education
- Strengthening the early childhood education system by ensuring child care providers have the resources needed to deliver access to affordable, quality education for Texas families

- Providing holistic wraparound support for clients in addition to case management to ensure families have the resources they need to seize opportunities

Applications for the first grant cycle will open at 8 a.m. CDT on Monday, April 15 and will close at 11:59 p.m. CDT on Friday, May 24. Organizations interested in applying should use this online application portal.

The Texas Mutual community affairs team will host an informational webinar on Wednesday, April 24 at 11 a.m. CDT for the first grant cycle to answer questions about the RFP. Interested organizations can register for the event here.

The second grant cycle will bolster workforce development and safety training. Texas Mutual seeks to invest in organizations and initiatives focused on:

- Training the current and future skilled workforce in safe work practices, especially in industries or occupations at higher risk for workplace accidents
- Creating strong pathways for in-demand middle-skill jobs
- Upskilling and reskilling adult learners using earn-and-learn initiatives

Applications for the second grant cycle will open at 8 a.m. CDT on Monday, August 19 and will close at 11:59 p.m. CDT on Friday, September 27.

Grant amounts will vary by market and organization size. Applicants are recommended to request funding between $25,000 and $100,000 unless otherwise advised. To be eligible for grant funding, organizations are required to be based in Texas, be a 501(c)(3) designated organization, and demonstrate they are actively delivering assistance and services to Texas communities.
